Administration block for former Isolation Hospital, now offices for Thornhill Barracks. c1895. T plan building with two storey range running east-west to the south and single storey running north-south. Square plan water tower of two and a half storeys to centre with natural slate pyramidal roof. Mostly red brick in stretcher bond with stepped plinth of engineering bricks to single storey range. Natural slate roof, hipped with red clay tile ridges. Upper storey of south range is painted pebbledash render. Later extensions to east and west of two storey block with an open sided walkway linking Mauritius Block with Tripoli Block. Windows are all replacement Upvc except for isolated timber framed vertical sliding sashes and casements to the northern end of the single storey range. Almost Symmetrical façade to south elevation with projecting bays to ground floor and brick chimneys in the south roof-plane. Further tall brick chimneys adjacent to the tower and to the northern eaves line of the single storey block. A striking building in the Thornhill Barrack group not least given its architectural articulation physical linkage to further blocks and the water tower which acts a focal point within the group. Mauritius Block forms part of the wider group which makes up the architecturally and historically significant Thornhill Barracks complex. Condition Survey: 1 - 5  <input type="radio"/> 1 Very Bad <input type="radio"/> 2 Poor <input type="radio"/> 3 Fair <input type="radio"/> 4 Good <input type="radio"/> 5 Excellent

Historical Context: Mauritius Block forms part of the wider group which makes up the architecturally and historically significant Thornhill Barracks complex. Formerly part of the isolation hospital, Mauritius Block is one of the earliest buildings on the site, probably original to the Isolation Hospital periods (the building appears on the 1897 Ordnance Survey Map) and is therefore of high evidential, historical and aesthetic value.
